PERSONAL PROFILE

Jamilla was born and raised in San Francisco. Her passion for architecture and urban planning stems from growing up in the Bayview which shaped her view of the social injustices of the built environment. Her passion is designing affordable housing and socially just spaces for everyone. When she is not studying for her ARE exams, she volunteers for renter's rights activists non-profit organizations, loves to bake while watching her local favorite teams (Warriors, SF Giants, and 49ERS) and enjoys biking and taking long walks all over the city.
