PERSONAL PROFILE

Pam's interest in building starts at the beginning of the design process through construction. Her first job in San Francisco after graduating from architecture school was as a carpenter and this hands-on experience has helped inform her construction understanding and communication. She appreciates all the players in the design and construction process and enjoys working with a team to make a project realized. Over the last 25 years she has focused her attention on sustainable building practices and works to integrate best practices into her work.

While not at work, she enjoys time with her family, spending as much time outdoors hiking, running, biking, or sitting in the sun.
